

Learning Objectives for Undergraduate Rotations in Urology Year 3 Clerkship

---

- Outline a diagnostic approach to hematuria and establish a differential diagnosis.
- List the differential diagnosis for a solid mass in the kidney identified on imaging and describe the evaluation of a patient with a suspected renal cell carcinoma
- Discuss the potential treatment options for localized renal cell carcinoma
- List the differential diagnosis for acute flank pain, including two life-threatening conditions
- With reference to pathophysiology, outline the work-up and management schemes for a 45- year-old male who presents with an obstructive ureteric stone.
- Outline a diagnostic approach to voiding dysfunction in males and females
- Describe an appropriate management scheme for a man who has an elevated PSA
- List and interpret key clinical findings and investigations and formulate an initial management plan for a patient presenting with a scrotal mass
- Outline an approach to an acute scrotum and recommend appropriate action
- Discuss the appropriate approach to, advice regarding and management of erectile dysfunction (ED)